

Uxbridge College Guide to Results and Post Results Services August 2022

Results

Results from the summer series of exams will be published on 18th and 25th August 2022.

Level 3 Results Day including A-Level, AS-Level, T-Level and BTEC - Thursday 18th August 2022

Level 2 Results Day including GCSE and BTEC - Thursday 25th August 2022

Results will be available for collection from 9.00 a.m. to 1.00 p.m. on both days from the Uxbridge Campus. Any results that are not collected by 1.00 pm will be posted out by 1st class mail on the day and should arrive on the following day.

If you have applied for university course, UCAS will start updating its systems at 8.15 a.m. on 18th August. Updates can take several hours, but this may be the quickest way to find out if you have secured your place. If your place depends on GCSE English or Maths, you will probably have to wait until 25th August.

Post results services

If you don't agree with your results, you can use the post results services to check your result. You will need to pay a fee to the exam board for most services. Below is a summary of the main options available to you.

You can ask for the following:

- To look at a copy of your marked script.
- A clerical check – this involves making sure that all the pages have been marked, the marks you have been awarded have been added up correctly and the results matches the marks on the paper.
- A review of marking – this includes a clerical check. A second examiner will review your paper. A priority review is available for students whose place at university depends on the outcome.

You should be aware that your mark and grade could go down. The exam board deadline for a priority review is 25 August 2022 and for all other appeals it is 29 September 2022. To guarantee that the College submits your appeal by these deadlines you must submit your appeal to the College two days before these deadlines i.e., 23 August for a priority review of Level 3 marking and 27 September for most other services.

To access the services, we advise you to discuss with your teachers first. For example, you may be advised that a review of marking is not worthwhile, but ultimately it is your decision if you want to proceed. You will need to submit a form with your request, a separate JCQ consent form and payment. Your teachers will explain the steps that you need to take.

Cost of services

These vary between exam boards, and the prices for the main services that you might want to use with the main exam boards are listed below. Also included is the number of calendar days each could take. If you have requested a priority review of marking as your university place depends on the outcome, you should contact the university that you have applied for to let them know. They should keep your offer open until the outcome, but you should continue to explore other options.

	Receive a copy of your script (7 days)	Clerical check (10 days)	Review of marking (15 days for priority, otherwise 20 days)
AQA	No charge*	£8.25	GCSE £38.35 A-Level £44.40 A-Level priority £52.85

*The College can access these electronically

With all exam boards, if the grade changes, fee will be refunded. If your mark changes but the grade remains the same, your fee will not be refunded.

If you have completed a qualification not included in the table above, please speak to one of your teachers to find out more.

For more details and other options, you should refer to the following publications. For A-Levels, AS-Levels, T-Levels and GCSEs you should refer to the JCQ Guide and for BTEC you should refer to Review of Marking and Appeals Guidance for Students from Pearson.
